Claim of the Highwater

Havana March 15th 1856.

W. H. Robertson Esq.
Present

Dear Sir.

We wrote you on the 2nd Decr 1854 respecting a difficulty in the Custom House in regard to the Brig Jonathan Cilley, belonging to our friends Messrs Le Baron & Sons of Mobile, and to which letter please refer. We repeat here the principal items so as to bring it more fully to your mind. The Brig came over under command of Capt Jones; it was his first trip as Captain, and of course he was not fully conversant with the Customs and laws of this place. On the voyage, he threw overboard a part of the cargo he took in Mobile (95 m ft of lumber) owing to bad weather. On arrival, he entered the quantity he estimated remained on board, (65 m ft lumber) making no note of having been obliged to throw over any. Within the 12 hours allowed by law we went to the Custom House to correct the manifest, and desired to enter the whole 95 m taken in at Mobile and to add the note that "part of the cargo was thrown overboard owing to bad weather". The Collector allowed the addition to be made to the manifest so as to bring the amount up to 95 m ft but would not allow the note of "part of cargo thrown overboard" to be added. He protested before a Notary Public against the Collector. On discharge, the cargo turned out about 77 m feet: we were obliged to pay duties on the whole 95 m ft, and in order to let the vessel go to sea we were obliged to give bonds to be answerable for any fines &c. You represented the matter to the Captain General at the time, and as we had, (or thought we had) the law in our favor, had little doubt not only that no fine would be imposed, but that on the contrary the duties would be refunded on the lumber which was not delivered. The matter thus rested until a day or two ago, when we received a demand from the Custom House Authorities ordering us to pay a fine of Two Hundred and forty four dollars four reals, imposed upon the Brig J. Hilley for not making entry of cargo according to law. This fine we have been obliged to pay, and we now have to recur to you again, and would beg of you to represent the matter once more to the Captain General. That we were within the 12 hours allowed by law is not denied we believe, or if denied the facts do not bear it out, for the Collector allowed us to make the addition to the manifest, of 29700 ft lumber so as to bring the amount up to the quantity originally shipped at Mobile. He claims that we had by law the right to make any correction, and that it was an illegal & unjust act for the Collector to admit the correction as far as regarded the number of feet taken at Mobile, and to refuse the addition of the note that "part of the cargo was thrown overboard". Either the collector should have refused permission to make any correction whatever (which he would have done had the 12 hours passed) or else he should have allowed us to make whatever correction we chose. As the fine now imposed (coming with the decision of the Captain General) admits of no appeal we have been obliged to pay it. We think the Capt. General can not understand fully the facts of the case, or a decision so contrary to law and justice would not have been given.

Yours respectfully
(signed) Charles Tyngh 16'

Enclosure with Despatch no 29.

Letter from Chas. Tyngh to the Agents of the Dry Dock
City of Mobile, representing an alleged infraction on the part of the Custom House authorities in loading cocoanuts upon the cargo in 1854, and paying a heavy fine thereto.
